

Dr. P. Acharya Nagarjun
Head & Associate Professor

Dr. P. Acharya Nagarjun has completed 25 years of service by October 2016 successfully completed foreign assignment of teaching and training medical & paramedical students, established a teaching medical laboratory in a health college at Dilla, ETHIOPIA under United Nations Development Programme. Rejoined back the parent department in 1998 and since then continuing as a faculty member handling P.G. students in medical microbiology. Area of interest is medical microbiology, molecular diagnostics and microbial biotechnology. Received a National “Out Standing Achievement Award” for research contributions by GUARD Society. Organized 4 blood donation camps and organized national conference on Microbial Milestones in 2008. Published 14 research paper in various peer viewed journals.