THEME OF THE SEMINAR

The Constitution of a democratic state is the fundamental and supreme law of the land. The life of a nation depends largely on the working of its constitution. There are many successful constitutions which have been in existence since many decades and even centuries successfully. We can mention the constitutions of USA, Australia, Canada, France, UK and Switzerland etc in this context. Comparatively, the constitution of India is younger, more dynamic and progressive in many respects. We are approaching its platinum jubilee in the next few years. It is the time to make an introspection, retrospection and audit of our great constitution and its working. The experience of its working and the expectations this multidimensional and diverse society need to be discussed, deliberated and flagged at this most appropriate juncture.

The Constituent Assembly met for the first time on December 9th 1946. The same day of 2021 known as the Platinum year of the Indian Constitution, but 1946 is only the beginning the Constitution. The end day or the adoption of the Constitution was on 26th November 1949. This day we are celebration as the Constitution Day of India, from this day onwards we are marching towards the Platinum year on 26th November 2025. It is the need of the hour to recall and remind the founding fathers and mothers ourselves certain foundations and aspirations to make power impersonal and its experiences and expectations of its accountability has been the motivation for Constitution of India and Constitutionalism

As per the chairman of the Drafting Committee and also the chief architect of the Indian Constitution, Dr.B.R.Ambedkar-'however good a Constitution may be, it is sure to turn out bad because those who are called to work it, happen to be a bad lot. However had a Constitution may be, it may turn out to be good if those who are called to work it, happen to be a good lot. The working of a Constitution does not depend wholly upon the nature of the Constitution. The Constitution can provide only the organs of State such as the Legislature, the Executive and the judiciary. The factors on which the working of those organs of the State depend are the people therefore enter into the merits of the Constitution. Because and the political parties they will set up as their instruments to carry out their wishes and their politics. Who can say how the people of India and their purposes or will they prefer revolutionary methods of achieving them? If they adopt the revolutionary methods, however good the Constitution may be, it requires no prophet to say that it will fail. It is, therefore, futile to pass any judgment upon the Constitution without reference to the part which the people and their parties are likely to play.'

Keeping the above caveat in view and the constitutional developments of the last more than 73 years, the Faculty of Law, Osmania University ,Hyderabad which is 123 years old, is organizing this 3-day Hybrid Model National Seminar on the theme “Marching towards Platinum Jubilee of Indian Constitution : Experiences and Expectations” from 7th to 9th August 2023.
