Employer. feedback on students/work performance

Feedback 5:How do you feel the curriculum prepares students to become entrepreneurs, lifelong learners, and ethical global citizens?

Response: 1 Strongly Satisfied, 3 Satisfied

Action Taken:

The entrepreneurship and ethical learning components in the curriculum will be enhanced through workshops, mentorship programs, and the introduction of courses related to social entrepreneurship and global citizenship. We will also integrate more project-based learning and opportunities for lifelong learning skills.

Feedback 6: Effectiveness of modern pedagogical theories and methods are included in the curriculum.

Response: 3 Satisfied, 1 Needs Improvement

Action Taken:

Based on the feedback for improvement, the university will work on modernizing the teaching-learning methodologies, including the adoption of blended learning, flipped classrooms, and more digital content to engage students better. Faculty development programs will be conducted to support the implementation of these pedagogies.

Feedback 7:Evaluate our graduates' abilities to meet the needs of the workforce.

Response: 3 Satisfied, 1 Neutral

Action Taken:

To improve graduates' workforce readiness, the university will collaborate more closely with industry partners to organize skill development workshops, job fairs, and company-specific training sessions. Regular updates to the curriculum based on industry feedback will be made to ensure our students are prepared for current job market demands.

Feedback 8:The curriculum promotes the holistic development of the learners.

Response: 1 Strongly Satisfied, 3 Satisfied

Action Taken:

Holistic development being a priority, the university will increase focus on soft skills, mental wellness, extracurricular activities, and leadership programs. New initiatives, such as personal growth seminars and student clubs, will be introduced to support the holistic development of students.
